FROG ISLAND WILL BE JUMPING

They say that all good things must come to an end...but they didn't say when! The motion has been moved, construed, and approved to make the "Best of the DTA/WEMU Winter Jazz Series" a reality.

Starting at 12 noon on Saturday, June 12th. Depot Town's Frog Island Park will come alive with 10 hours of the finest jazz and blues to be found anywhere.

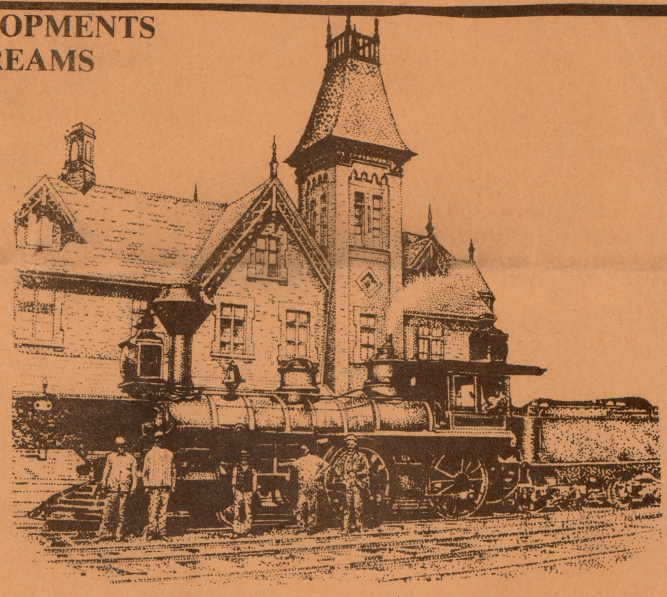
The 5 groups who will be performing are, in order of appearance, Dr. Morris Lawrence and the 30 piece Washtenaw Community College Jazz Ensemble, Misheavin', the Alberta Adams Blues Band, the Marcus Belgrave Sextet, and, to make sure everybody goes home dancing, the Lyman Woodard Organization.

Best yet is the ticket price for the whole day — only $5.00.

During the week leading up to the day long outdoor concert, our neighborhood will be abuzz with activities, including live entertainment in both Aubree's Alibi Saloon and the Sidetrack, as well as a wide variety of outdoor entertainment and events. Shops, restaurants and imbibing establishments will be running specials through the week, and heavy media exposure is expected.

In the event of rain (don't wash your car folks) the concert will take place oneither Sunday, June 12, or the following Saturday.

DRAMATIC DEVELOPMENTS FOR DEPOT DREAMS



Michigan Central Railroad Depot
YPSILANTI 1864

After several months of planning and work with local groups such as the Depot Town Association and the Save The Depot Task Force, the most recent plan to rehabilitate Ypsilanti's Michigan Central Railroad Depot has been adopted and approved by the Ypsilanti City Council.

That group has approved the several-stop concept which provides for (1) the City Manager to enter into negotiation with Amtrak for access to a long-term leasehold agreement on the property, (2) to open the services of the Community Development Department to solicit funds, grants and loans for financing the up-to-one-million-dollar project, and (3) to begin talks with restaranteurs fo the operation of the facility which would provide the most stable business base for this neighborhood since the depot seased operation several years ago.

Architect Denis Schmeidicke's design for the rehabilitation of the decaying building has received much attention from many local restoration buffs but must still be seen as a promotional tool to gain attention toward real estate holding, fund-seeking and finding an operator. Once those items happen, the City will handle one of the finest public-owned facilities in the country—a facility which could bring profits to the local city government and bring pride to the entire area.

Some viewers of the plan have already jumped in to criticize the roof ventilator plan or compare the roofline to Howard Johnson's. In a building where the roof is such a dominant element of the design we will probably see a great deal more of such comment, since everyone in the neighborhood feels as if they own the building. Such proprietariness is not uncommon in the district, and Depot Town has been able to ride on such pride of ownership in the most positive ways. Let's keep it up.

We suspect that such criticisms of the plan may be well ahead of schedule, however, and that the physical design of the building will be an important item for the Historic District Commission about a year from now.

Certainly this is going to be an unusual opportunity for historic preservationist: just which Depot design will be restored? The original, elegantly soaring Victorian structure had a slender, three and a half story towar, ornate, pierced bargeboarding at the eaves and spiky lightning rods acting as vertical exclamation points at the many peaks of the roof.

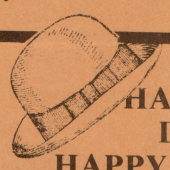
Or, shall we restore to one of the several stages of depot which were remodeled by fires, train wrecks and decay? We doubt that we'll ever see the original buildng again, unless President Reagan decides to cut the defense budget and funnel those funds to Ypsilanti, but we do look forward to seeing a new rehabilitation rather than an authentically restored design rising beside the tracks soon.

RAG REPORT

If you are a loyal "Reader of the Rag", then perhaps you have noticed that we are gradually initiating some changes in it's content and layout. The first such change occured several months ago when DTA President Carolyn McKeever designed the gorgeous masthead that adorns the top of each rag. Then, with the extra traffic created from the Winter Jazz Series, the number of copies distributed at the beginning of each month was upped from 500 to 750, and with this issue we grow from 4 pages to 6.

As a result of experimenting with different ideas, layouts, typesetting styles, et al over the last few issues. April or May will bring a different look to the Rag, as we try to fill the gap between your Wall Street Journal, People Magazine, and "Jokes for the John." Not to worry—you'll never see us at the supermarket check out. Circulation will then reach 1,000 copies, letting more folks know what's going on in our little Camelot.

One of the Rag's major priorities, aside from keeping with its tradition of up-beat and often earth shaking news, is to have this rascal at least pay for itself. This is accomplished through-you guessed it—advertising. The Depot Town merchants have rallied to cover the costs of typesetting and printing through their ads, and we ask that you "visit with your Visa's" and patronize them all. If ideas work out, than the Rag might even be able to put a plus in the Depot Town Association coffer.



HAPPY BIRTHDAY DEAR JONESY HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO YOU

On Wednesday, February 17th, over 100 friends and neighbors helped Depot Town's honorary mayor Harold Jones celebrate his birthday at the Sidetrack Bar.

"Jonesy," who has lived at 35 Photo Street for 21 years, was showered with cards, presents, and the best wishes of all who attended.

Now it is publically told;
It's a birthday for all to behold.
No, this isn't a quiz
For Harold Jones is
Seventy-Seven years old!

Happy Birthday, Jonesy.

RAGTIME

• Both Miller Ice Cream Parlour and The Treasure Shoppe have re-opened after winter vacations. Now once again Sally deals good ice cream, Shirley says "I scream good deals."

• Recently an Ann Arbor women discovered Depot Town while on vacation in Pennsylvania. When the Pennsylvania resident found out the women was from Ann Arbor she exclaimed," Oh Isn't that near Depot Town? Did you know they have the cutest little ice cream parlor there." Does this make Depot Town nationwide?

• B & D Plumbing at 13 E. Cross have removed the old garage type doors from their building and replaced them with "historically approved windows. Look Great!

• Depot Town merchants are exploring the possibilities of changing back to angle parking on E. Cross. A presentation to city council will be forthcoming.

• Bonni Rosen-Fine and Sally Richie formally welcomed new neighbors Forbes Cleaners, Black Bart's Pizza, and Charismart to our neighborhood with a welcome basket including flowers from Hon's Flowers and Fancies.

• If you're an Irishman (Irish*person*?), honorary or otherwise, don't miss the annual parties this St. Patty's Day at the O'Sidetrack & McAubree's.

• Just in time for St. Patty's Day—John Waite offers a foolproof hangover remedy. A 6 oz. glass of water with a drop of bourbon should do the trick. If that doesn't work, reverse the proportions.

• D.T.A. Members can expect to receive their membership cards through the mail by mid-March.

• Bill Krause of Ann Arbor Words & Images is now the "typesetter" for this monthly exercise, and as always, we can rely on Bret Schaefer of Ypsilanti's Speedy Printing for his patience when we tell him we need it "yesterday."

• Softball games on Frog Island...Outdoor Farmer's Market...bicycle rides...the flower boxes in full bloom...sunsets at 9:00 p.m. There. That feels a little better doesn't it?

• Some have noticed that the 19th Century Cross St. Bridge has sustained some winter damage. Ypsilanti DPW will do the necessary repairs as soon as the weather breaks. "Save the Bridge" was Depot Town's 1st successful campaign when it was going to be replaced with an aluminum structure back in '75.

• Tyner's Furniture of Ypsilanti, invites you to browse through room after room by the area's leading designers, featuring Depot Town pioneer and dwellen Warren Lewis, now through March 15 at Ann Arbor's Hermitage House of Interior Design.

NO ALIBI'S FOR AUBREE'S

Springtime is a time for metamorphosis. As the snow starts to melt and the chill in the air doesn't seem quite so chilly, strange and wonderful things start to happen everywhere.

Depot Town is no different. As a matter of fact spring has hit us early this year, and this very minute a cocoon is changing into a butterfly fight before our eyes.

Of course the reference is to the all new and beautiful Aubree's Saloon. If you haven't had a chance to check out the new awning or the fine etched glass work (done by Depot Town's Crystal Images) in the door and surrounding entryway windows, do take a look. But don't stop on the outside. Head on in and pause just long enough to check out some of the old photos and pictures in the foyer. Looking straight ahead as you come in you can't help but notice the recently uncovered original black walnut staircase heading up to the yet to be completed second floor.

The written tour stops here. We suggest you catch a train to Depot Town and see Aubree's Saloon for yourself. Be prepared for a good time, and polish up on your darts. See future Rags for updates on Aubree's Saloon and other Depot Town Business'.

JAZZ SERIES NOTES

• The Marcus Belgrave Septet, one of Dee-troit's finest talents, melted the snow off the freight house roof at the February concert. For those who missed it, he will be returning for the June concerts at Frog Island.

• The February concert was the season's 1st sell out with last minute ticket buyers being turned away at the door. Paul Fetters of River Art Works reports that in the 3 days preceeding the concert, he alone sold 150 tickets. Buy yours early. Don't say we didn't tell you!

• A surprise band kept a lot of concert-goers dancing in the freight house til 1:00 a.m.

• A second refreshment bar at the freight house north end successfully cut down on the long lines for beer, wine, and snacks.

• Jim Kane of the Ann Arbor News said it best when he wrote in a review of the concert, "Taking in the Winter Jazz series in the century old Farmer's Market building in Depot Town is as much a festive occassion as it is a musical event. Hats off to the D.T.A. and WEMU for joining forces and making the series possible."

• The remaining concerts are as follows:

March 13 . Jim Dapogny's Easy Street Jazz Band and Misbehavin'
April 10 . . . . . Boogie Woogie Red and The Alberta Adams Blues Band
May 8 . . . Ragtime Charlie and Sisters Kate, The Cakewalkin' Band, Armstrong and Bagan, and more.
June 12 . . . . . Frog Island Festival

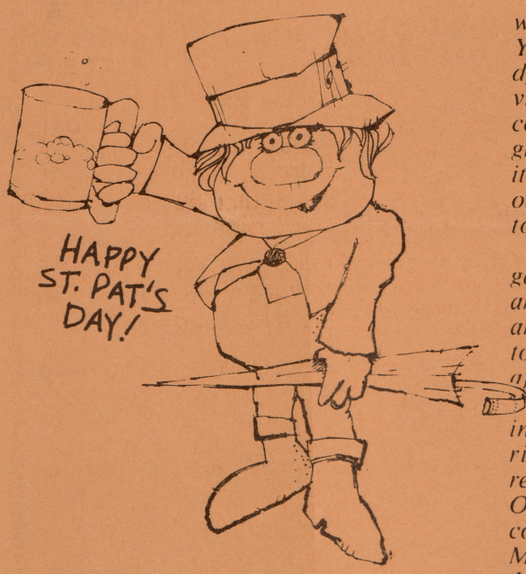
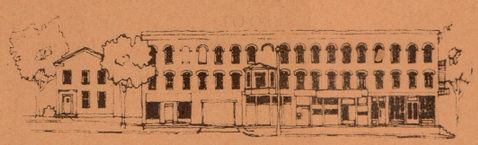
. . . ON THE MOVE!

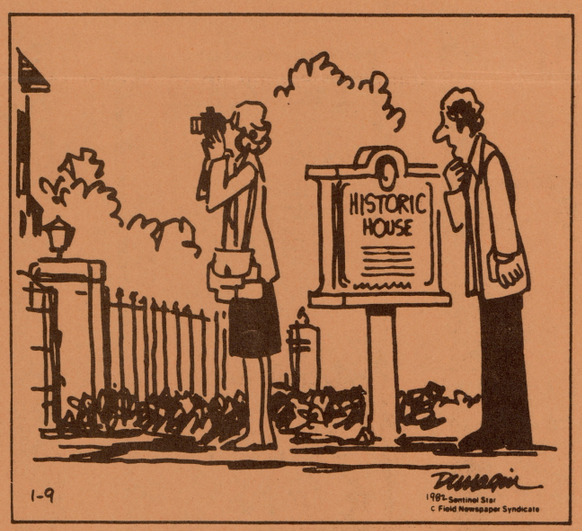
Rosemary's Corner and the Depot Mailbox announced that on or about March 15th they will jointly move from their present locations on River Street to their new digs at 15 E. Cross, the building that presently houses B & D Plumbing and newcomer Forbes Cleaners. Continued success in your new location!





HISTORIC DISTRICT COMMISSION ROLLS ON WITHOUT DEPOT TOWN

City Council has approved Mayor Goodman's appointments to the Historic District Commission and Depot Town and the rest of the East Side are noticeably absent. Several of our neighbors who have served on that commission have resigned over the years and much interest has arisen in the rest of the City. At this time, however, John Va Bolt, of North Huron Street is the closest representative we have for what is seen by many as the heart of the local historic district. Lis Knibbe was recently appointed to the Commission and Major Pro-tem Nathalie Edmunds was reappointed.



"THIS WAS THE LAST HOUSE TO BE FINANCED AT A REASONABLE INTEREST RATE."

YPSILANTI AREA FUTURES COMMUNITY ASSEMBLY

(In 1979 more than one hundred community organizations rated the recent successful attempts at the reclamation of the Depot Town district as one of the projects in their home town about which they were most proud. Those local groups' evaluation sessions of "Prouds and Sorries" were the first steps in establishing Ypsilanti Area Futures, Inc., a dynamic new organization with its view forward, into the future of our community. With so many historical groups looking at where we have been it seems so appropriate to have at least one group looking the other way — toward tomorrow.

Several hundred folks than gathered in a community Assembly and formed task forces to help guide and direct activities toward Ypsilanti's tomorrows. Many of those task forces affected the quality of life in Depot Town and its environs: bike paths, intergovernment cooperation, the riverfront, commerical district revitalization, and the MCRR depot. One of their most successful cooperative projects was bringing the Michigan Artrain to Ypsilanti in May-June 1981.

Now, on March 27, 1982, the Second area-wide Community Assembly will be held at Washtenaw Community College's Culinary Arts Dining Room beginning at 8:30 am on that Saturday morning and adjourning at 12:30 pm.

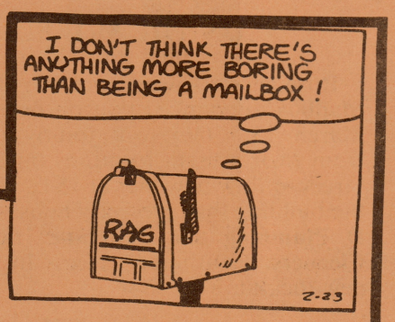
The second assembly is intended to enhance community cooperation, focus on the pooling of resources, develop links amongst resource individuals, thereby doing more with less and developing a greater sense of community. The assembly is intended to provide a framework within which citizens of the community may find help to provide a framework within which citizens of the community may find help to bring about their dreams, images and goals by forming new task foces and reinforcing existing tst forces. The assembly is also intended to expose the community to Y.A.F. and increase membership and particpartion in Y.A.F.

Ann Kettles, YAF president invites all interested community members to participate in this event.

Highlites of the morning program:

— Gunder Myran, WCC president and past president of YAF
— ten minute viedo tape by international futurist Ed Linderman re: fututing on the national and international levels.
— New dreams of the future from the assembly present.
— Futuring sessions.
— Follow-up with brainstorming sessions and much writing on newsprint sheets all over the walls.
— Task force summary reviews.
— Summary by Gil Bursley, John Porter, Gunder Myran

Depot Towners are encouraged to bring their creativity to this exciting morning later this month. We have so much to share with the rest of the community. It's time to spread our success around a little.



Van G. Whaler, manager
City of Ypsilanti

Dear Van:

Welcome to Ypsilanti. In your new position as City Manager, we encourage you to ride on the pride and enthusiasm of this dynamic community. We ought to be real good for each other.

Pay particular attention to all the noise from the Depot Town district. We're been running like mad to work with the rest of the city ever since we seceded in 1852 — and rejoined a year later.

Lately, we've been catching up — and were only able to do so by working as partners with the city. Our last City Manager helped to facilitate in Community Development Block Grants for our new sidewalks and street. He also was a prime mover in the establishment of the Farmer's Market.

We're glad you're here, Van, because we still have a long list of projects ahead of us in Depot Town and we're counting on your leadership and management skills to help us realize them.

Welcome to Ypsilanti. Meet us in Depot Town soon, and let's get to work again.

Very truly yours,
Carolyn McKeever

PS. We' d like to park this oil painting in your office to remind you and your co-workers of this little commerical district down between the river and the railraod tracks. We suspect we'll want it back someday, though, because we don't intend to look like this for long.

Snug and Easy Fitting French Model Dip Hip Corset, 88c

No. 18K160 This corset is a copy of a fine fitting French model sold at $5.00. Made of fine quality French sateen boned with non-rusting tipped steels, straight seamed, medium height bust and tapering waist, long sloping dip hip and back. This gives a graceful, slender figure which is so much desired. Fitted with good quality lisle elastic, patent catch hose supporters on front and sides. Trimmed at the top with a delicate valenciennes lace drawn with satin baby ribbon insertion. Colors, white or drab. Sizes, 18 to 30. Be sure to give size and color wanted.
Price..... 88c
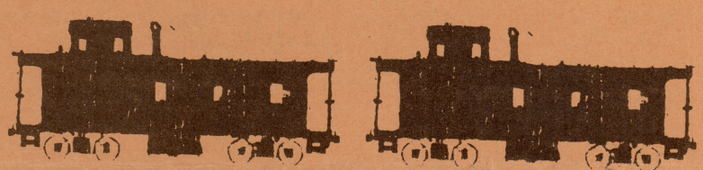
If by mail, postage extra, 20 cents.



HARRIS 20TH CENTURY RAILROAD ATTACHMENT.

This transforms the ordinary bicycle into the most practical and durable device for obtaining high speed on railroad tracks, making a regular railroad velocipede out of an ordinary bicycle. It consists of three braces made of seamless steel tubing, telescoped into each other for convenience in adjusting or carrying. They are attached to a steel wheel with double flanges and rubber covered surface, which makes it absolutely noiseless in operation. It is light, strong and simple, and can be attached to or detached from the bicycle in a very few moments. Either a low or high rate of speed can be very easily maintained, and it is impossible to slip, owing to the rubber tires. Our illustration plainly indicates the manner of attaching, and when not needed it can be very easily carried on the handle bars, as it takes but a very small amount of space. The parts are substantially made, and intended to have great durability. Nicely enameled in black. Weight, 4 pounds. This attachment has become very popular with railroad and telegraph employes, both male and female.

No. 19K1639 Harris 20th Century Railroad Attachment. Price..... $5.45

Harris No. 2 Flyer Attachment. Same as above, with extra wheels to be placed in front and behind bicycle. Especially constructed for persons desiring to secure a high rate of speed, as it will hold the curves better, and sustain heavier loads than the No. 1. Weight, 11 pounds.

No. 19K1640 Harris No. 2 Flyer Attachment. Price..... $7.70

• Jackie of Jacqueline's Boutique is the midst of a winter clearance sale on winter and fall clothes. All slacks, coats, sweaters, dresses and accessories are 20 to 50% off. Stock up on some bargains now — old man winter still has a couple tricks up his sleeve.

• Depot Exchange Antiques at 54 E. Cross is getting ready to open their second floor with parts in projects, sometime in March.

• In celebration of their Grand Opening. Miller's Ice Cream gives you a shot at a free hot fudge sundae through march. Pop a balloom and the price you pay for the $1.39 sundae is inside — from free to a buck.

• In the back room at Jim's Apple Annies Vintage Clothing has 20% off all furs and coats.

• Next door at...And Everything Nice, 27 E. Cross, some new handcrafted children's gift have just arrived. One of a kind quilts, dolls, and stuffed trucks are sure to please the young ones (and parents, too)!

• A "March Madness sale" is on at Jim MacDonald's Antiques . In addition to some great buys on finished and unfinished furniture, he offers over 20 fine antique quilts at 20% off original price. 29 E. Cross.

• The Health Emporium at 19 E. Cross is now offering "bulk" items including, m-m-m-m, yoghurt covered malted milk balls at $1.40 per ½ pound. Great tasting candy for that sweet tooth, and 9 out of 10 dentists agree...

REYCLERS RECYCLE BACK TO COMMUNITY

Ypsilanti's Recycling Center located in Depot Town presented a seminar entitled "Recycling: yesterday, today and tomorrow" for the public school teachers at their recent in service day. The presentation reviewed the current developments in the county, state, national and international resource and energy trends mandating future recycling as well as the historical development of recycling.

The center is providing each school in Ypsilanti with impressive recycling instructional curriculum packets, posters, and a lively slide show- all for the teacher's use in reinforcing the increasingly important concepts and practices of conservation, waste reduction and recycling. This worthwhile project is completely paid for and produced by all of Ypsilanti's recylcers.

The importance of recycling is obvious. As underdeveloped nations seek to improve their standard of living, the industralized countries are using 80% of the earth's energy and materials.

Ypsilanti will pay over $1,000,000 for single use trash pick up. Over the next three years, with dumping fees totaling over $150,000.

We can all help by taking advantage of our recycling center. Everything recycled at the center (including household glass bottles and jars, aluminum, cardboard, newspapers and used motor oil) is sold to industry for re-use in making new products. Energy is saved, less pollution results and the cities can save on disposal costs. Also the revenues received from recyclables by the center are made available for local environment projects.

The center is located next to Frog Island, behind the Farmer's Market parking area.

Hours are Wednesday and Saturday, from 9:00 am to 3:00 pm. For more information or a glimpse of the recycling school ciriculum, visit Jim MacDonald's Antiques or stop by the center.

A slide presentation is available at no charge to community organizations.

WHERE IS ART? CHARISMART!

A unique fit and craft shop with a gallery-like setting to showcase the work and talents of local artisans is just part of what you can expect to find upon visiting Depot Town's newest shop, Charismart." Located in the beautifully renovated Millworks Building at 312 N. River, co-owner Gladys Byers explains that the shops name comes from the Greek word "charis"—meaning fits or giving—and "mart; a 20th century word for market.

Charismart is heavily involved in community projects as evidenced by the gift items now in the shop from the young folks at Ypsilanti's Junior Achievement, as well as some fantastic items crafted by some young folks in their 70's. Not only will the beginning of March kick off a special sale to raise funds for youth projects, but will also see a special artists along with a picture and brief biography of the artist. Early March will feature the works of William Midgley—potter, model builder, and woodworker.

Charismart is glad to be a part of Depot Town, and invited everybody to stop by and enjoy.
